

NEED SOME CEREMONY

Quest for rebirth, for light, survival, disillusionment, hope, change the world, transformation, darkness vs light, good vs evil, empowerment, individual vs society, personal transformation, nature

Can't see through the windshield I ain't got no rearview mirror
Well I think these brakes are busted but I ain't got no time for fear

Hey hey hey we've all gone crazy
Hey hey hey yeah

Don't know how nor what nor why, can't get no relief
I've been knocked down, I've been lied to, don't know who to believe.
Days are dark at night I wake, can't get no release
I've got enough troubles of my own, still I feel like I'm kinda lucky
Yes I feel like I'm kinda lucky

Hey hey hey we've all gone crazy
Hey hey hey I need some ceremony
I said I need some ceremony

If you slow your perpetual motion, you get what you want even with a blindfold
Pick your inner window, the ego or the soul
You don't know, the good ol' days until those days are gone
We're in a world full of sorry to hears and prayers, we're all searching for redemption

Hey hey hey we've all gone crazy
Hey hey hey I need some ceremony
I said I need some ceremony

Lift my soul up where I belong
Lay me down under a starry sky
Play my song, yeah, sing me higher
Leave me here to sit by the fire
Yeah leave me here, I wanna sit by the fire

Hey hey hey hey
Hey hey hey hey
Hey hey hey we've all gone crazy
Hey hey hey I need some ceremony
I said I need some ceremony.
